Assignment

Now that we have a first-cut at identifying the Stakeholders and their Goals for our project, this week we should have enough information to begin producing a “rich picture”, slide 5 chapter 4, of our current knowledge. The picture contains the stakeholders identified so far and their relationships to one another. It also contains any physical/conceptual objects with which the Stakeholders interact.

Submissions

- Your modified list from Assignment 2, containing new information. Big note: Clearly identify all of the additions and modifications.
 - The stakeholders
 - The rationale for choosing each stakeholder
 - The goal or goals for each stakeholder
 - The questions that you would like to ask each stakeholder.
- Your first cut at the “rich picture” of the project (slide 5 chapter 4).
 - You may draw the picture by hand and scan it for submission.

With this assignment, you should be getting the idea that all of your results are subject to modification as the course progresses. In a few weeks, we will begin assembling your work into a single document.

Don't forget to submit your time logs along with the assignment.
